MOWA

BANGKOK

Instagram Marketing Strategy for International Travelers

REAL-STAY CASE STUDY

FROM MARKET → RIVER → ROOM → EXPERIENCE

HATORI ICHIDAI
Digital Marketing & Social Media Strategist
ATLAS TO PARADISE

Research & Case Study
October 2026

MOWA BANGKOK

Instagram Marketing Strategy for Hotels
Targeting International Travelers

INDEPENDENT CONCEPT CASE STUDY

A positioning, content-design, and 30-day operating plan to turn the appeal of a riverside hotel into travelers' "I want to go" and "I want to stay."

Created & planned by	Target market	Deliverables
HATTORI ICHIDAI Digital Marketing & Social Media Strategist	Travelers considering a trip to Thailand (hypothesis centered on English-speaking markets)	Instagram strategy design Content planning & operations design

How to read this case study

This is a strategy proposal, not a results report. It is based on my own two-night stay at MOWA Bangkok over the New Year period, experienced as a regular guest. Where the original uses a ratio, a frequency, or a sequence, this English version keeps it exactly as a hypothesis or design model; no actual performance figures have been added.

Contents — 01 Strategy overview | 02 Target segments & content design | 03 Post ideas & production | 04 30-day operating plan | 05 KPI design & improvement rules

* This document is an independent concept proposal created for portfolio purposes. It does not indicate commissioned work, official approval, or implemented measures from MOWA BANGKOK. No actual performance figures exist, so none are included.

01 | Strategy Overview

The goal is not to list hotel facilities. It is to present, in order on Instagram, the decision-making material travelers use when choosing where to stay.

Item	Design approach
Target customer	International travelers planning a Bangkok trip who value views, location, and the stay experience.
Customer uncertainty	Access to the city center, nearby sightseeing, views from rooms, and how to spend time during the stay are unclear.
Value provided	Visually communicate time spent by the riverside and convenience as a sightseeing base.
Instagram's role	Awareness → Saving & comparison → Profile check → Move to booking flow
Key CTAs	Save this for your Bangkok trip. / Check availability.

Customer journey (design model)

1 DISCOVERY	2 INTEREST & SAVING	3 COMPARISON & TRUST	4 BOOKING ACTION
Reels	Carousel	Rooms & FAQ	Profile
Views & experiences	Save to itinerary	Location & access	Booking link

Discovery → Interest & saving → Comparison & trust → Booking action

Key design principle: Evaluate not by views of a single post alone, but as a sequence of actions through saves, profile visits, and booking-flow clicks.

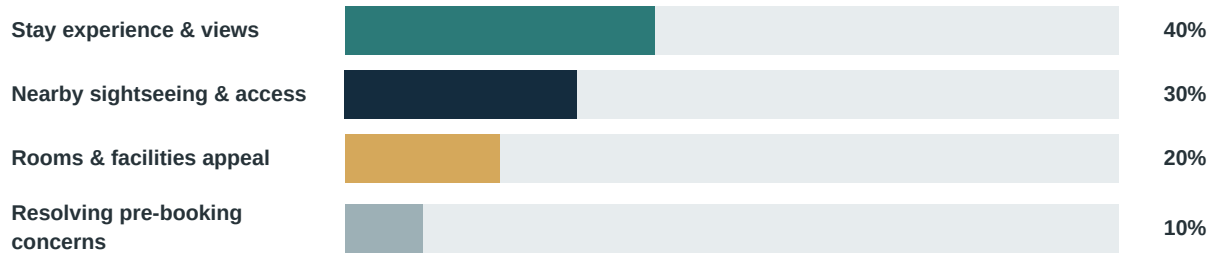

02 | Target Segments & Content Design

Do not segment by attributes alone. Classify by what travelers want to know at each stage of trip planning. The following are pre-testing hypotheses.

Segment	What they want to know	Posts that resonate
Considering a destination	What kind of stay is possible in Bangkok?	Riverside atmosphere / sunset Reels
Comparing hotels	Location, rooms, views, value for price	Room tours / area maps / FAQ
Building an itinerary	Distances to sights, transport, nearby experiences	Saveable carousels / access guides
Just before booking	Facilities, check-in, resolving concerns	FAQ / facility introductions / booking flow

Content mix proposal

Proposed content mix (share of posts — hypothesis)

This mix is a hypothesis for initial testing. Review actual save rates, profile-visit rates, and booking-flow clicks, and shift next month's production mix toward the pillars that perform well.

Content pillars

Pillar	Role	Examples
Stay experience & views	Create emotional interest	Morning river views, sunsets, views from rooms
Nearby sightseeing & access	Give reasons to build it into an itinerary	How to reach sights, nearby spots
Rooms & facilities	Provide material for comparison	Room tours, facilities, shared spaces
Resolving pre-booking concerns	Reduce drop-off just before booking	FAQ, check-in, transport options

03 | Post Ideas & Production Concepts

Do not end with “beautiful photos.” Each post answers one traveler question.

Format	Example post title	Structure & message	CTA
Reels	A Riverside Morning in Bangkok	Strong view in the first second → room → morning routine	Save this view
Reels	Bangkok, Beyond the Busy Streets	Contrast with city bustle → quiet stay experience	Explore the stay
Carousel	A 2-Day Riverside Bangkok Plan	Day 1 & Day 2 model itinerary and transport info	Save this itinerary
Carousel	What to Know Before You Stay	Access, facilities, check-in FAQ	Read before booking
Photo post	Your Room, Your River View	Show room features concretely	Check room options
Stories	Choose Your Bangkok Mood	Polls / questions on views, food, sightseeing	Visit profile

Reels basic structure (15–20 seconds)

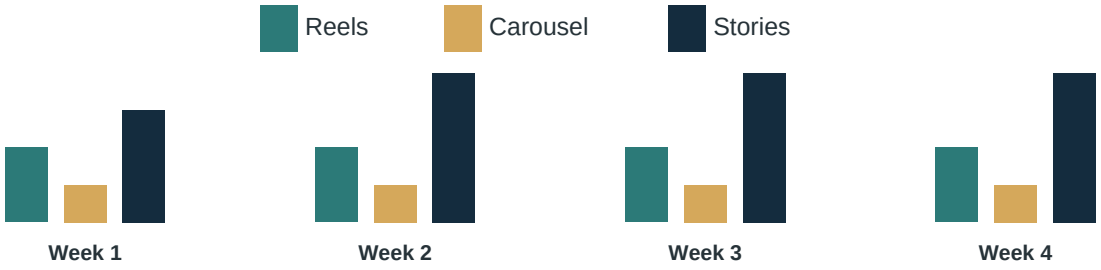

Seconds	On screen	Purpose
0–2 sec	Strongest view & one-line hook	Stop the scroll
3–7 sec	Concrete room, facility & view footage	Help viewers imagine staying
8–14 sec	Nearby experiences & ways to spend time	Connect to trip planning
15–20 sec	Brand name + CTA	Saves & profile visits

Production note: Before publication, confirm shooting / publication permissions, facility information, access times, and view conditions with the operator. Do not assert unconfirmed facilities, distances, or services.

04 | 30-Day Operating Plan

The first 30 days are not about large ad spend, but about testing content hypotheses on a small scale.

Weekly production & publishing guideline (posts / sessions)

Bar heights reproduce the original chart's relative volumes. The original chart carried no numeric labels, so no exact weekly counts have been invented — only Week 1 counts are stated in the table below, as in the original.

Week	What to do	What to verify
Week 1 | Foundation	Profile setup, booking-link check, 2 Reels, 1 Carousel	Baseline profile-visit & save rates
Week 2 | Comparison	View and access posts, collect questions via Stories	Which angle gets saved
Week 3 | Improvement	Change opening hook, length & CTA and retest	View retention & profile visits
Week 4 | Consolidation	Re-edit top themes, FAQ post, monthly review	Booking-flow clicks & next month's priority themes

Weekly operations

Step	Work	Output
Planning	Break one customer question into one theme per post	Post plan
Production	Vertical video, photos, captions, English copy	Reels / carousel assets
Publishing	Posts, Stories, profile-flow check	Published content
Analysis	Record saves, reach, visits & clicks	Weekly report / improvement ideas

05 | KPI Design & Improvement Rules

Without actual results, do not present performance as if it existed. First set up measurement design, then obtain baselines after operations begin.

Stage	Metrics to watch	Question to answer
Awareness	Reach, views, view retention	Is interest sparked in the first seconds?
Interest	Saves, shares, save rate	Is it information worth keeping for trip planning?
Comparison	Profile visits, follow rate	Do viewers want to check hotel details?
Action	Booking-link clicks, inquiries	Do they move to the booking flow?

Improvement decision rules (early operations)

Observation	Next action
Many views but few saves	Check whether it ends with beautiful footage alone. Add itinerary info & concrete benefits.
Many saves but few profile visits	Improve brand connection within posts and profile guidance.
Profile visits but few link clicks	Check profile copy, booking-link position, description & destination.
Strong saves & visits for a specific theme	Produce follow-ups on the same theme with different angles.

Capabilities shown by this case study

1 Understanding customers from travelers' perspective 2 Content design that connects hotel value to action 3 Communication structure for English-speaking audiences 4 30-day operating design 5 Improvement logic based on numbers.

Creator: HATTORI ICHIDAI | Digital Marketing & Social Media Strategist | ATLAS TO PARADISE

This document is an independent concept proposal and is not MOWA BANGKOK's official marketing material, commissioned work, or performance report. Mix ratios and operating frequency are proposals / hypotheses, not actual data.